

Accounts & Business COMPANY PROFILE

Financial & Operational Organization & Control Firm

Financial Clarity

Operational Discipline

Sustainable Stability

Who We Are

Accounts & Business helps small and medium-sized businesses organize and control their financial and operational activities. We help owners and management teams build a financial environment with greater clarity, control, and stability.

Our work starts by understanding the company's real situation, not by relying on the files or ready-made reports sent to us.

We enter the work environment

We understand the business

We review the system

We trace problems to their source

We reorganize the financial & operational environment

“ We don't work as an outside party at arm's length from the company... We become part of the work environment until clarity and control return and stability can be sustained.

Why We Exist

Many companies suffer not only from the absence of an accountant, but from the illusion of having one.

A company may have an accountant, but...

Accounts
not up to date

Reports
not reliable

Unreconciled
bank accounts

Real profits not clear

Having an accountant in the company does not necessarily mean having a healthy financial system.

A healthy financial system needs a qualified team, a suitable system, a clear document cycle, regular bank reconciliations, understandable reports, and continuous oversight that helps management see its true position.

“ The problem is not the numbers themselves... it is the ability to trust them. ”

What Makes Us Different?

What We Are Not

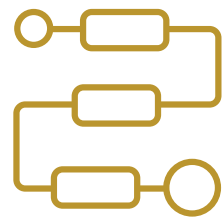

To keep our position clear, it is important to state what we are not.

Accounts & Business is not a traditional accounting office, a systems vendor, or a financing or investment firm. We build a financial and operational environment that gives companies control, clarity, and stability, through practical solutions that treat the root of the problem, not its symptoms.

Accounting is not the full value we provide

Our role extends to organization, oversight, and decision support

Systems are a tool for achieving the result

We implement and support systems such as QuickBooks and Odoo, but the software is not the final product

Organization and oversight are at the core of our work

We do not provide financing or investment; we strengthen oversight and financial and operational clarity

We treat the roots and protect stability

We do not settle for temporary fixes or partial corrections; we find the root of the problem and build a lasting solution

We build a financial and operational environment that gives the company

Clarity

Control

Stability

Software is a tool... control is the real product.

Our Brand Core

Everything we provide at Accounts & Business rests on three core values that form the foundation of every service and every decision.

Financial Clarity

Management knows where the company really stands, based on facts, not impressions or incomplete numbers

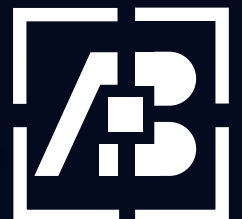

Operational Discipline

An organized, clear financial and operational cycle that can be followed up without depending on individuals

Sustainable Stability

A financial system that sustains improvements and prevents a return to chaos.

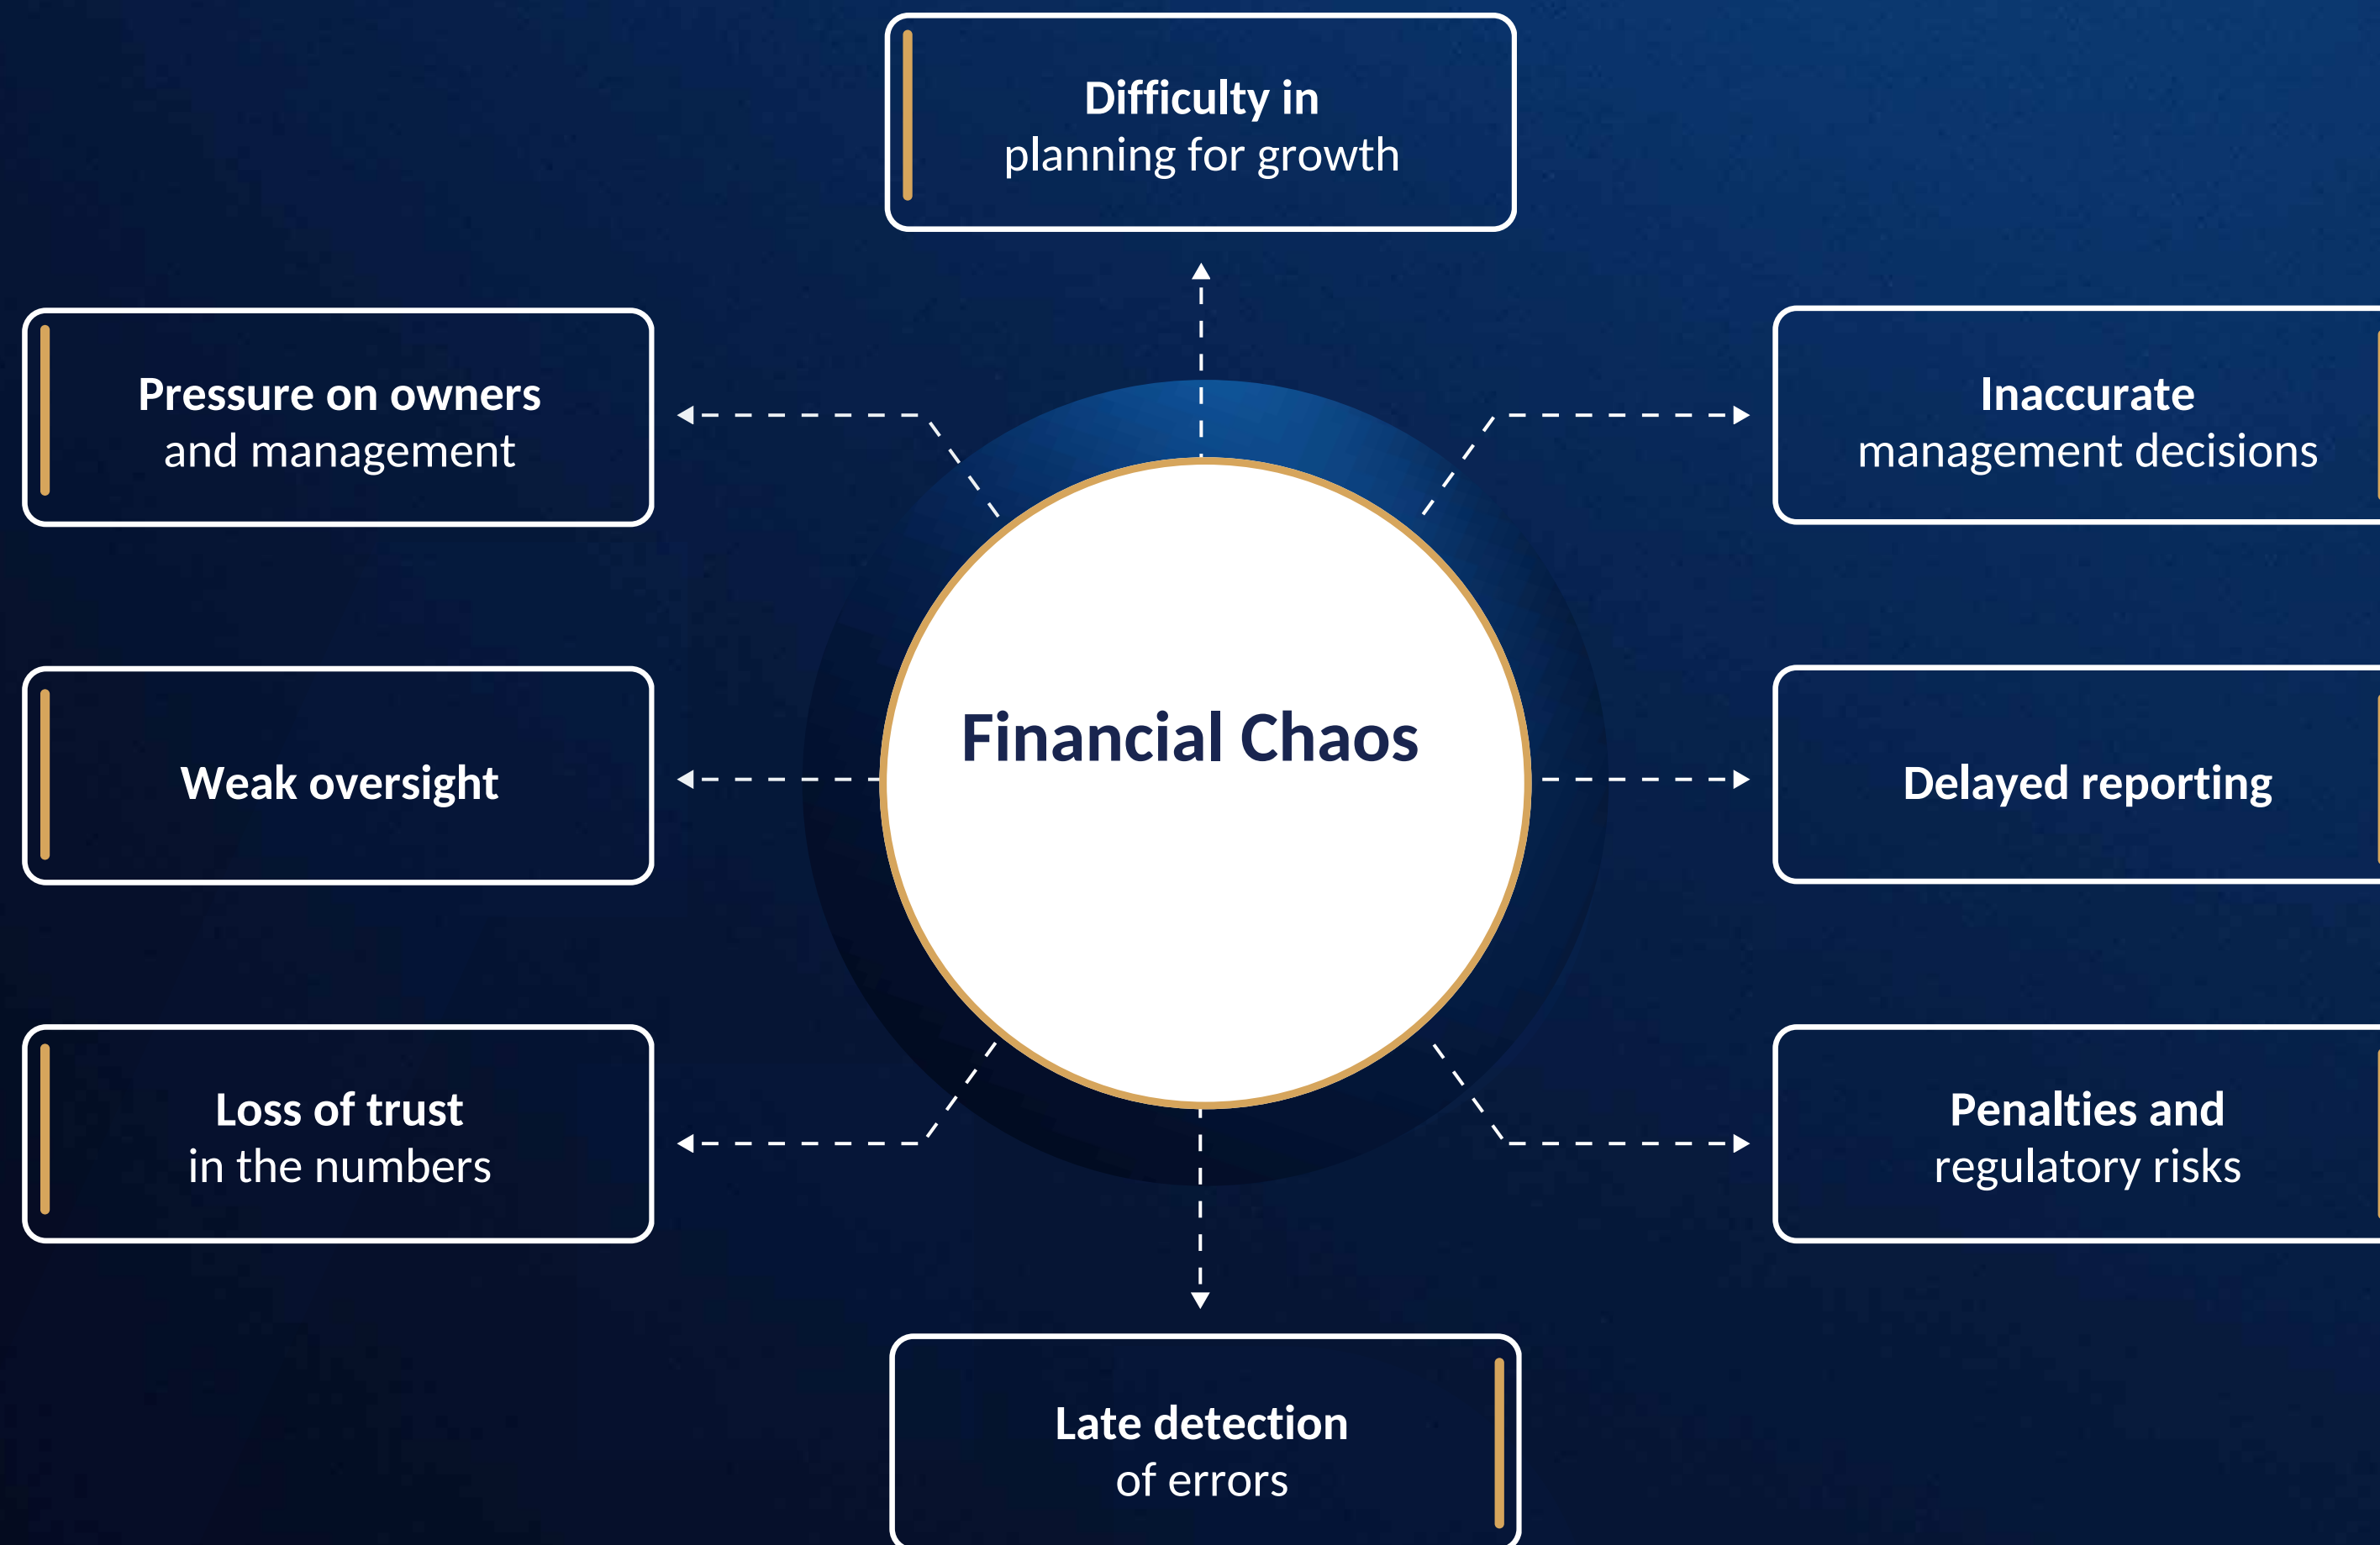

The Problem We Solve

Financial chaos rarely appears all at once. It often starts with a small delay, an unclear report, or a postponed bank reconciliation, then builds up until management can no longer trust the numbers.

These are not separate problems... they are signs of a deeper flaw in the financial and operational environment.

“ We are not just adding another accountant... we rebuild the company’s ability to see its financial and operational reality clearly.

The Hidden Cost of Financial Chaos

Financial chaos does not only cost a company money; it costs it trust, time, decisions, and growth opportunities.

When accounts are late or unreliable, management starts making decisions based on incomplete information. The company may not know its true profitability, may pay penalties, may discover errors late, or may stay dependent on one person it cannot do without.

“What management does not see in time may become costly later.”

From Chaos to Control

Our work often begins in environments struggling with delays, low trust, missing reports, or accumulated problems. But the goal is not only to clean up the past; it is to build a new position that can be managed with confidence.

“ We restore control so management gains clarity in its decisions and confidence in its numbers.

Our Overall Methodology

Our approach is not random. Every assignment follows a clear logic that helps us understand the problem, diagnose it, treat it, and then protect the results.

“ From understanding to stability, and from stability to development.”

Your Journey With Us

We begin the relationship in an organized way, so consulting never turns into random solutions or unclear promises.

Our Core Services

Accounts & Business offers five core services that form an integrated system for treating financial and operational chaos and building stability.

Financial & Operational Assessment

A professional gateway to understand the problem and set the right path

Financial Rescue & Control Transformation

A transformation service that treats chaos and rebuilds trust

Financial Stability Program

Continuous follow-up that preserves the system and prevents a return to chaos

Business Systems Transformation

Moving the company to a modern, organized environment that serves management

Special Financial Interventions

Expert intervention in specific, urgent, or sensitive cases

Accounts
& Business

Financial & Operational Assessment

The initial consultation is meant to understand the problem and assess fit. When a decision requires reviewing data, a system, or accounts, we move to a paid financial and operational assessment that sets the right path.

Assessment Path

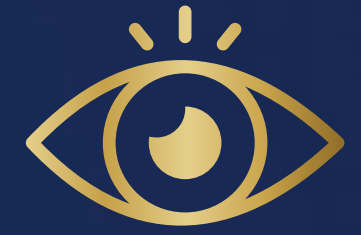

Professional Gateway for the Serious Client

The assessment reveals the financial and operational reality clearly enough to set the right path: does the client need a financial rescue, a stability program, a systems transformation, a special intervention, or is the case not a fit?

Use this service when the client says:

The accountant has lost control

We don't know our real profits

Our reports are not reliable

Our accounts are behind

The system doesn't work for us

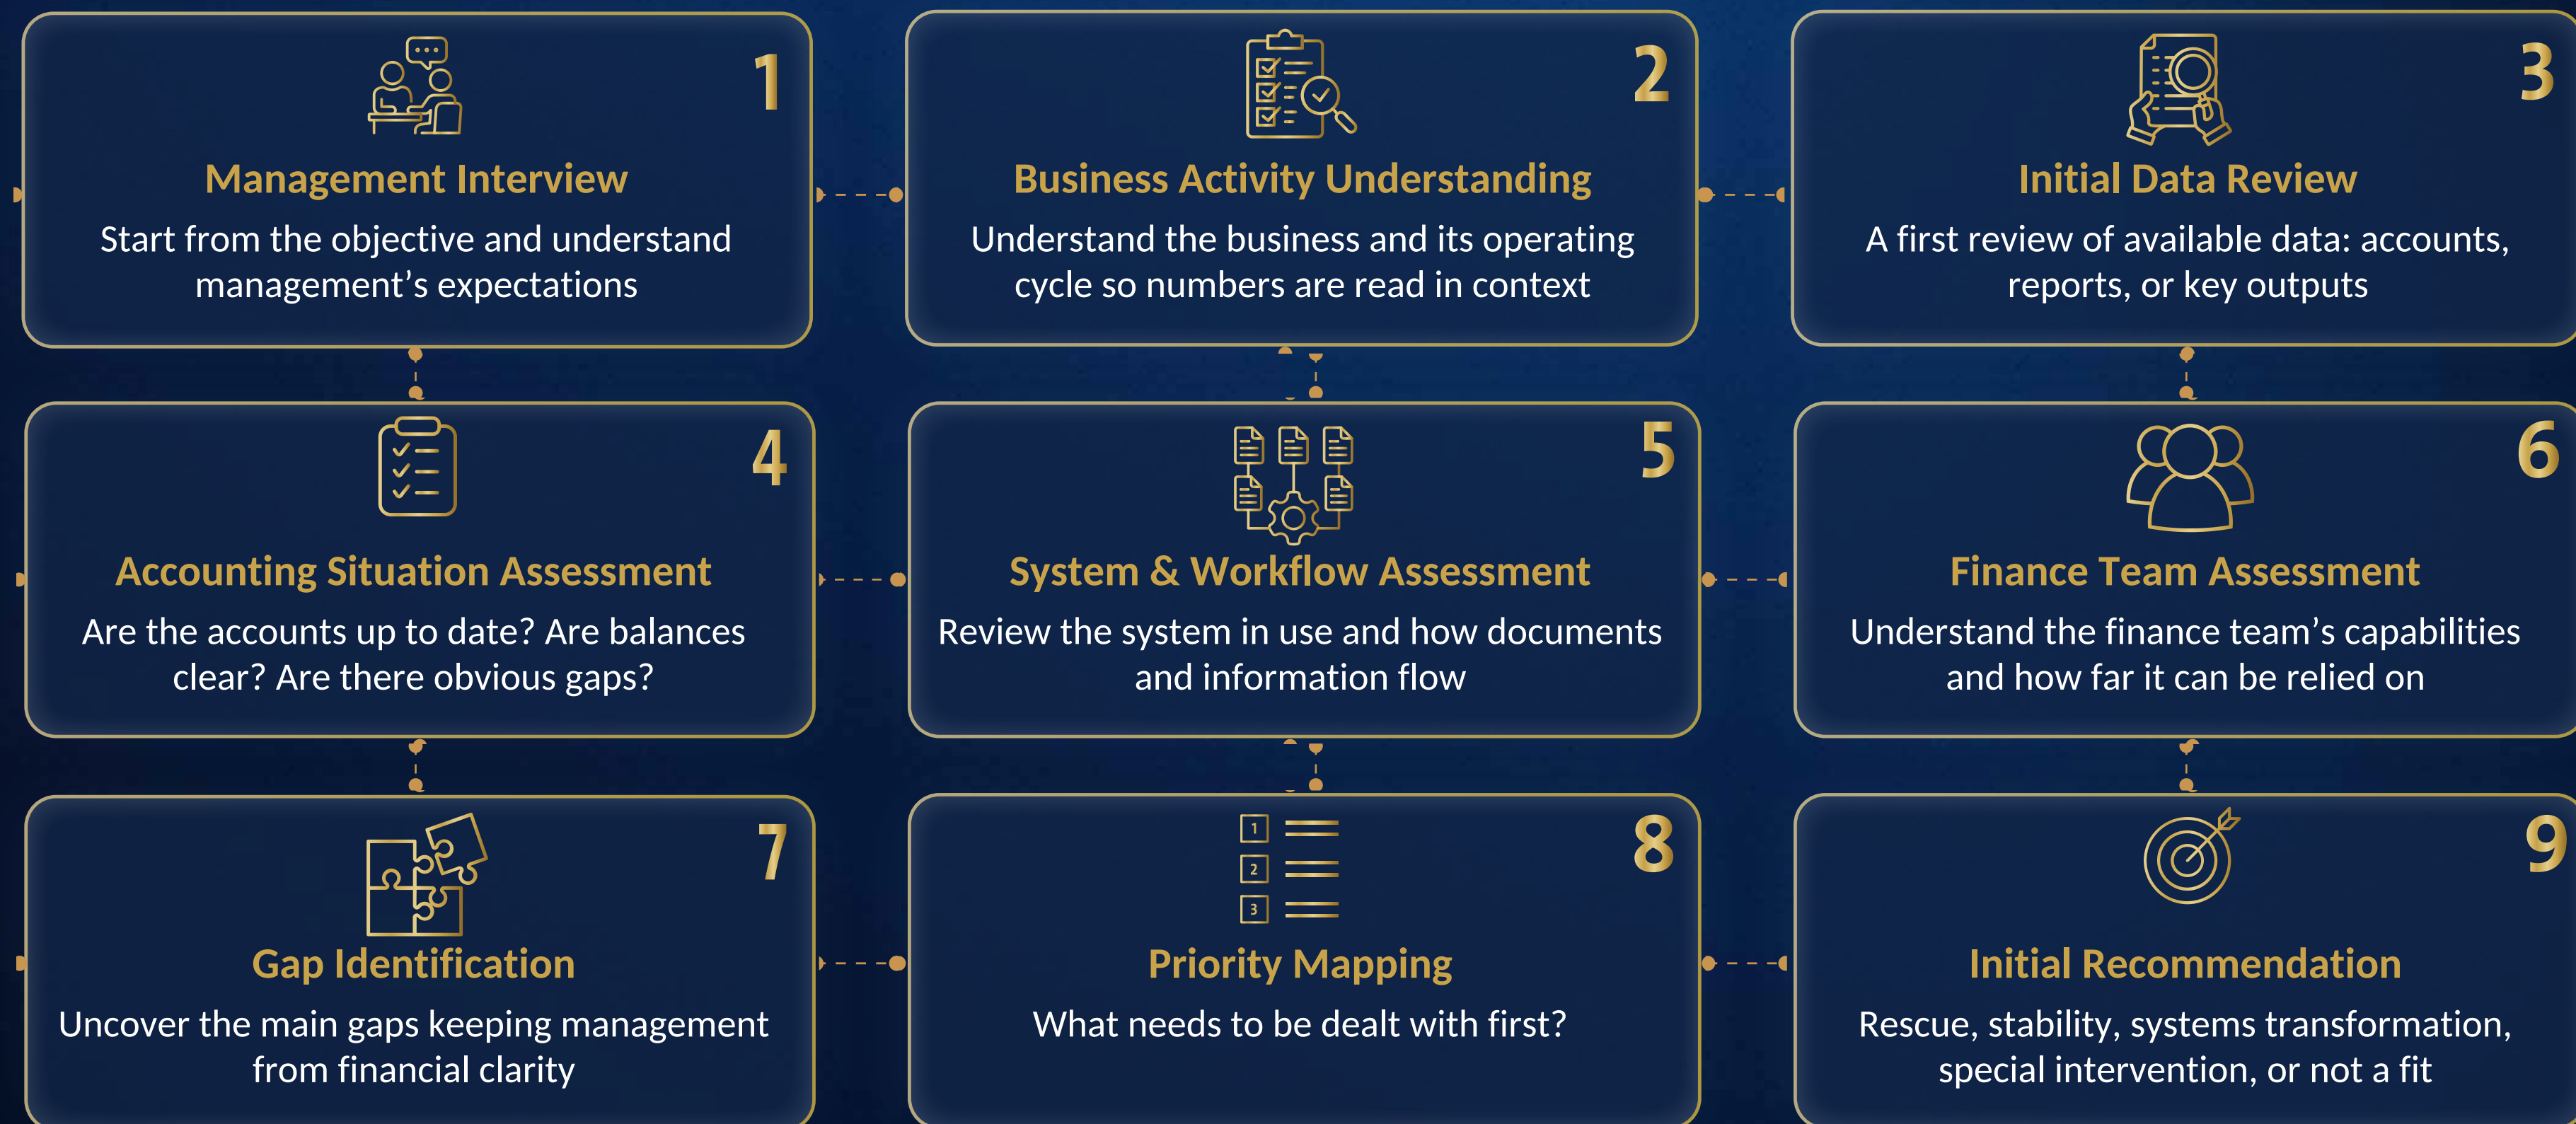

Everything depends on one person

“ A professional diagnostic gateway for the serious client.

Financial & Operational Assessment Framework

A&B BUSINESS DIAGNOSTIC FRAMEWORK™

The assessment follows a diagnostic framework that turns a sense of chaos into an organized view of the problem.

“ Diagnosis before execution. Clarity before commitment.”

Financial Rescue & Control Transformation

We enter an environment suffering from chaos, uncover the reality, identify the cause, and rebuild trust, then move management from “we don’t know where we stand” to knowing where we were, what we corrected, and where we stand now.

“ This is not a traditional accounting service. It is a transformation service.”

This service suits companies suffering from:

Control Recovery Framework

A&B CONTROL RECOVERY FRAMEWORK™

Financial Rescue & Control Transformation is delivered through a clear, systematic framework that treats chaos at its roots.

“ We don’t stop at correction... we build control.

Financial Stability Program

If the rescue service sells transformation, the Financial Stability Program sells peace of mind and continuity.

Once a company moves from chaos to control, the key question becomes:
How do we keep it there? How do we prevent a return to chaos?

“ Stability is not an add-on service... stability is a real product.

Stability Management Framework

A&B STABILITY MANAGEMENT FRAMEWORK™

“ The goal is not just to get organized. It is to stay organized. ”

The Financial Stability Program follows a framework that preserves financial control and prevents a return to chaos.

Why Do Clients Stay With Us?

Clients stay with Accounts & Business because they don't want to go back to where they were. Once a client sees the difference between chaos and organization, the value of stability becomes very clear: it is no longer just an accounting cost, but protection for the company's management and its decisions.

Stability

The company wants up-to-date accounts and an understandable financial position

Confidence in Decisions

No one wants to go back to late reports, unreliable numbers, or decisions based on guesswork

Higher Quality Than the In-House Alternative

Building the same capability in-house may require a strong accountant, a financial supervisor, training, oversight, cover during leave, and staffing risks

Clarity for Management

Management needs financial insight that supports decisions, not just accounting entries

Peace of Mind

With the accounts under control, management has more room to focus on growth and operations

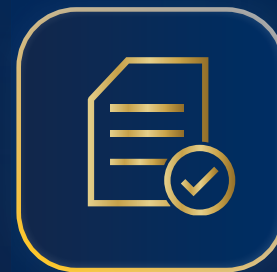

“ Clients stay because stability becomes a clear value once they experience it.”

Business Systems Transformation

This service is not sold as the “installation” of, or a subscription to, QuickBooks or Odoo. The software is not the real product; the real product is the move from a traditional or chaotic environment to an organized one that helps management follow up and stay in control.

Choosing the right system

Setting up the chart of accounts

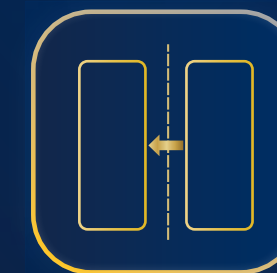

Configuring permissions

Building the financial and operational cycle

Transferring balances when needed

Setting a cutover point between the old and new systems

Training users on the basics

Running the system in a controlled way

The project may be a from-scratch setup for a new company, a move from an existing system, or a move from a disorganized accounting environment to a clearer system.

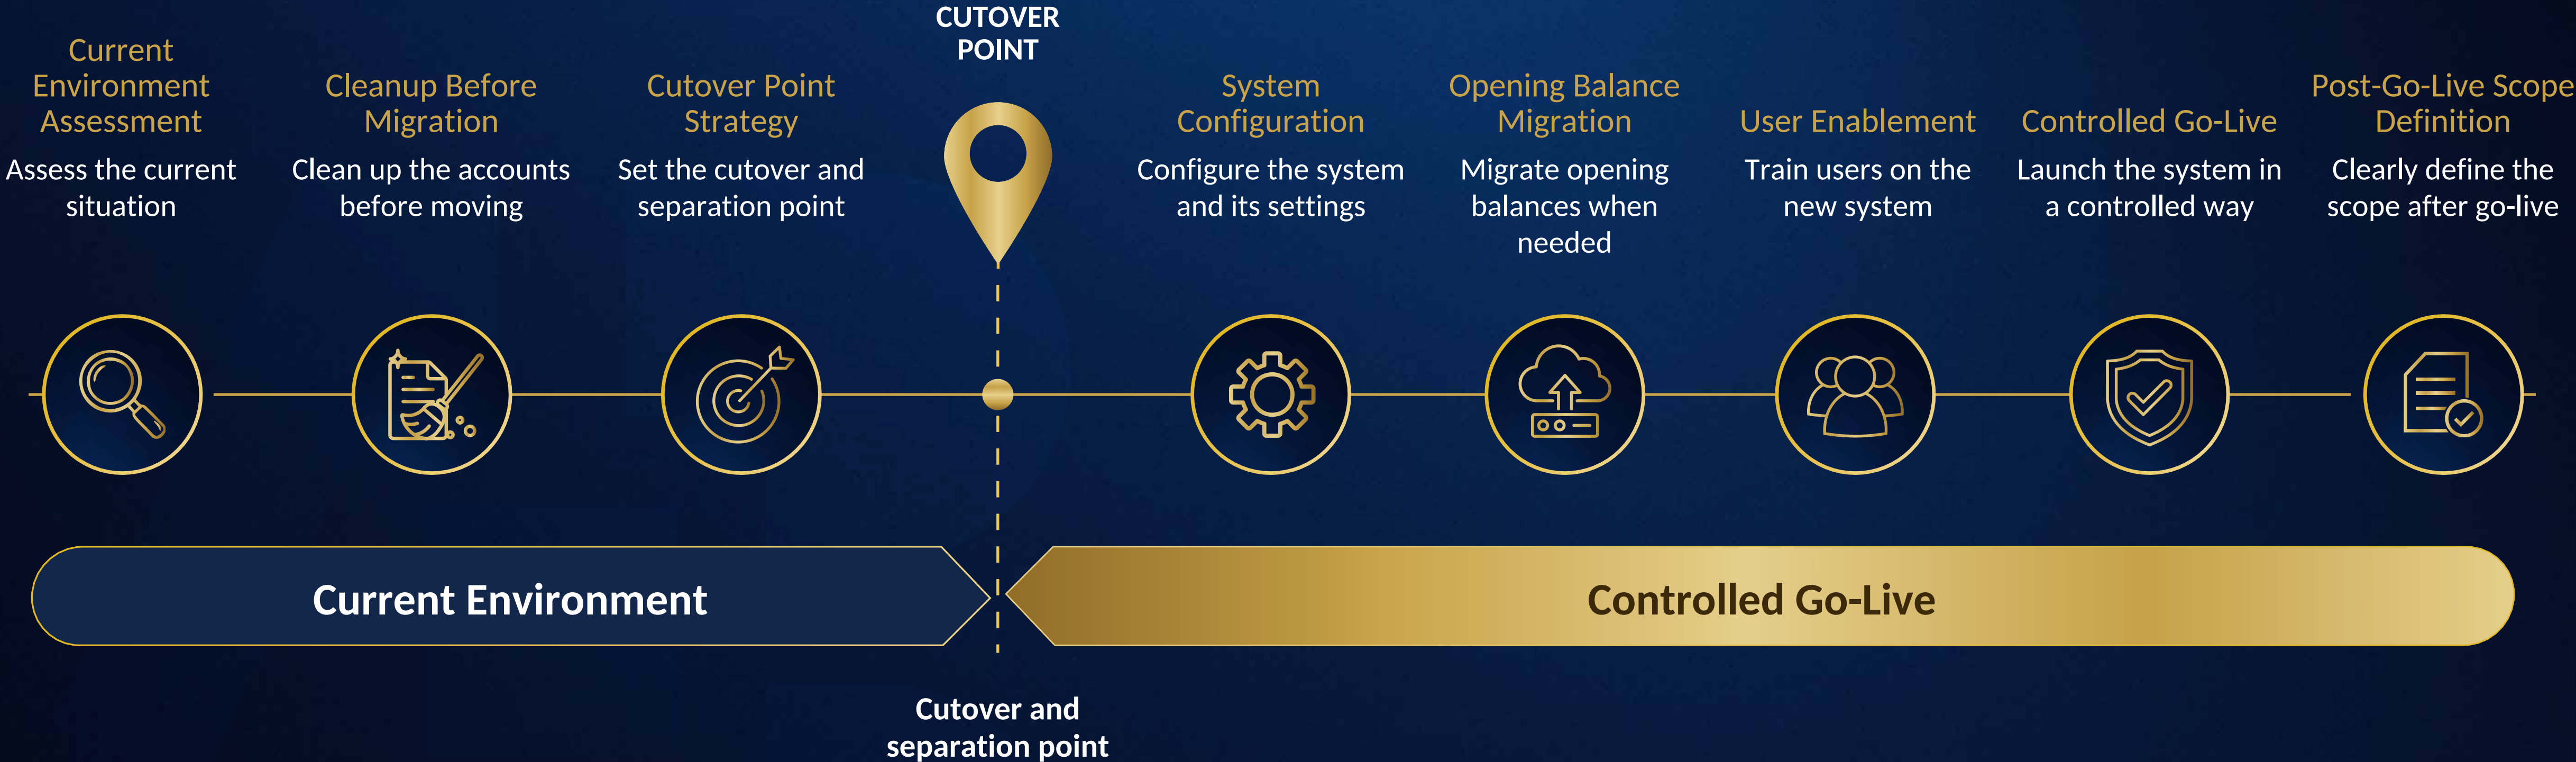

We don't sell software installation. We build a financial and operational environment that works and can be controlled.

Systems Transformation Framework

A&B SYSTEMS TRANSFORMATION FRAMEWORK™

Systems transformation follows a framework that makes sure the system serves the company’s reality instead of moving chaos into a new form.

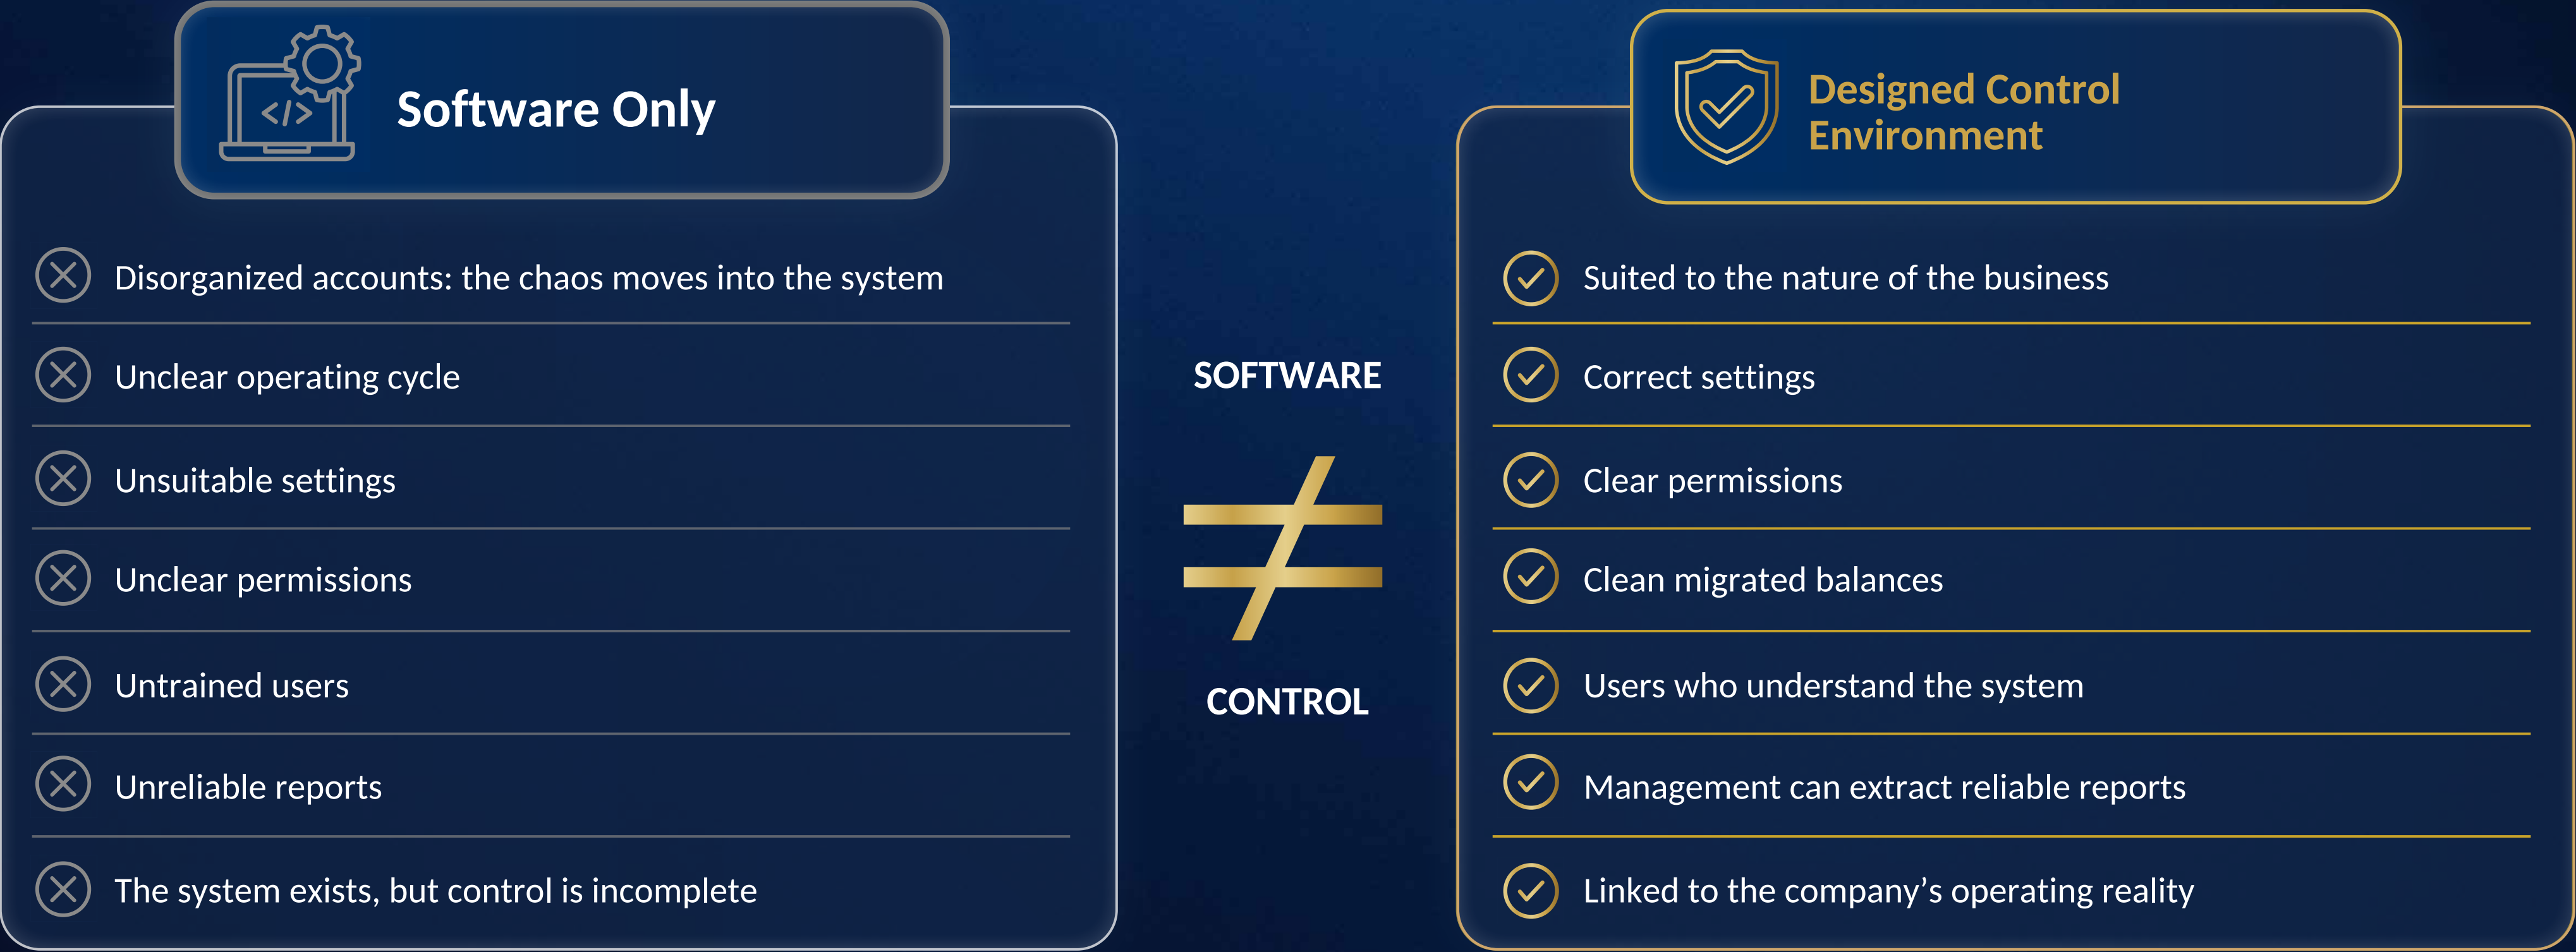

“ A good system does not create control on its own. Control has to be built into the system.

Software Is a Tool, Not the Product

Digital transformation problems do not always come from weak software, but from moving it into a disorganized environment. A system does not fix chaos; it may simply move it from one place to another. That is why we see systems as tools within the solution, not as the final product.

“ The system must serve management, not add to its confusion.

Special Financial Interventions

Some cases do not need a full review of the accounting environment, but they do need expert intervention at a specific point, under pressure.

This service suits special cases such as:

Tax examination

Zakat examination

Penalties or official notices

Submitting data or returns

Partial review

A specific financial problem

Urgent intervention

Specialist support on a sensitive file

This service is not offered as a low-priced service or a simple return-filing office. Its value lies in expertise, speed, and focus on the specific problem. We handle these cases as files that need quick understanding, careful review, focused intervention, and clear documentation of the outcome.

Expert intervention at a specific point, under pressure.

Special Financial Interventions Framework

A&B STRATEGIC INTERVENTION FRAMEWORK™

Special financial interventions follow a framework that keeps each intervention specific, focused, and well documented.

Scoped Intervention Discovery

Understand the specific problem, its context, the parties involved, and any time or regulatory pressure

Focused Diagnostic Review

A focused review of the data, documents, system, or case under intervention

Targeted Action Plan

A specific plan that treats the required point without opening an uncontrolled scope

Expert Intervention Execution

Deliver the required solution or support according to the nature of the case

Closure & Findings Report

Close the assignment and document what was understood, what was done, and the outcome or recommendation

“ This service does not sell working hours. It sells focused expertise in a specific situation.

The Ideal Client

The ideal client for Accounts & Business is not necessarily the biggest company, but the one with real pain and a readiness to change.

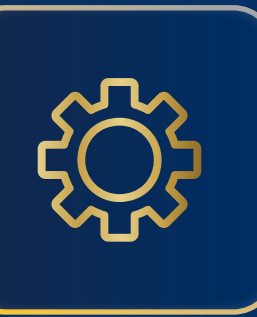

We are a good fit for companies that:

Suffer from chaos, weakness, or a lack of clarity

Don't trust their current reports

Use an outdated or underused system

Have faced a penalty or a regulatory issue

Want to move to a cloud system or ERP

Want to build a more stable financial environment

See accounting as a management tool, not just a cost

Are open to a long-term professional relationship

The company may be a small business growing fast, a mid-sized company in accounting chaos, or a family business that needs structuring or financial supervision.

When Are We Not the Right Fit?

We are not the right choice for every client, and that is part of protecting the quality of our work.

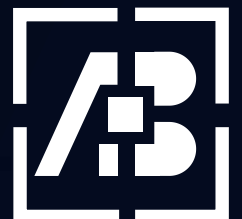

WE WORK BEST WITH

- ✓ Those who want to understand the problem before the solution
- ✓ Those who value clarity and organization
- ✓ Those ready to improve the way they work
- ✓ Those looking for lasting stability
- ✓ Those who believe in professional partnership and follow-up

NOT THE RIGHT FIT

- ✗ Those looking only for the lowest cost
- ✗ Those who want a quick fix without diagnosis
- ✗ Those unwilling to change the way they work
- ✗ Those who expect the software alone to solve the problem
- ✗ Those unwilling to commit to organization and follow-up

“ Yes, we serve, support, and collaborate, but within a clear scope, clear responsibilities, and commercial and operational boundaries that protect both parties. Good work requires collaboration.

The Outcome We Promise

We do not sell working hours. We do not sell accounting entries alone. And we do not sell software for its own sake.

CLARITY

- Financial clarity that shows management where it stands
- A better ability to make decisions
- Greater confidence in the numbers

DISCIPLINE

- Operational discipline that reduces chaos and reliance on individuals
- More reliable reports
- Better control over the books and bank accounts

STABILITY

- Protection from a return to chaos
- Stability that can be sustained

Every service at Accounts & Business must serve this outcome.

This is not a closing line. It is the value around which we build every client relationship.
